The Coming Financial Crisis: A Look Behind the Wizard's Curtain John Truman Wolfe

Is there really a Global Financial Ruler?

One that dictates policy to the Central Banks of the world?

Is there a Central Bank of central banks, that is senior to the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank, the Bank of England and the other national banks that control interest rates, inflation, deflation, prosperity and depression?

Such a bank not only exists, but John Truman Wolfe exposed this heretofore unseen hand in the Global Financial Crisis of 2008 and their plans for the next one.

No "conspiracy theorist" Wolfe names names, dates, places and actions.

If you have ever wanted to know who's behind the Wizard's curtain of international finance and how to protect yourself, start at page one.

And make no mistake, the events of 2007 and 2008 were a prelude: The next crisis, Wolfe predicts, will take the "bail-ins" used in the economic meltdowns in Cyprus and Greece and apply them worldwide, leaving depositors and consumers holding the bag, yet again.
